

Relational Presence for Coaches

For coaches who want to learn to hold a space for their clients
Participants receive 8.5 Core Competency CCEs

6-week course
$595

Week 1. Laying the Foundation: The Coach's Way of Being Matters

Week 2. Authenticity in the Coach Begets Authenticity in the Client

Week 3. Presence with Your Client

Week 4. Listening With All of Your Being

Week 5. Discomfort While Being in Relationship

Week 6. Closing: Creating Awareness from Beginning to End

Join us for 6 webinars in 2019!

Jan 29, Feb 5, 12, 19, 26, Mar 5

630-8pm EST - Using Zoom videoconferencing - Laptop is required

Principles of this course:

A coach's way of being matters.

Authenticity of the coach begets authenticity in the client.

There's always another moment.

Speaking up and taking risks is possible in creating relationship.

Over 90% of coaches surveyed believe that having presence is extremely important as a coach.

Under 20% of coaches feel they are completely authentic in a coaching session, learn how to raise your authenticity so you can feel comfortable no matter what comes up in a coaching session.

Coaching schools often focus on skills and tools. Relational Presence teaches you to build a muscle of how to be with clients.

Learn how to be with the full range of emotions of the client.

Be open to not knowing and taking risks. Relational Presence allows us to stay in the moment of choice.

Out in the world, clients may be judged. Coaches who use Relational Presence allow clients to be who they are without judgment. A safe environment is created for clients to be who they are.

Register at: <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/relational-presence-for-coaches-tickets-49300200226>

Facilitators:

Pam Noda, PCC

www.truevoicetraining.com

Tina Mertel, M.A., PCC

www.meaningfulcoaching.com